

Vero Lago Approved House Color Schemes

Because Sherwin-Williams no longer has color chips available for many of the original colors used by the various contractors when constructing the houses in the Vero Lago neighborhood, updated color schemes have been developed. These updated color schemes consist of substitute colors that match as closely as possible the original colors used. This assists homeowners in making their comparisons between the available color schemes. These updated schemes are identified with the letter "U" in the color scheme number. The color schemes that are attempts to duplicate the original colors used on Centex homes have the letter "C" in the color scheme name.

Due to the evolution of popular color trends over the years and the unavailability of individual color chips, not all of the original color schemes have been duplicated in these updated schemes. These original colors can still be mixed by Sherwin-Williams on request, but there probably are no sample color chips available under the original color names.

In addition to the attempts to reproduce the original color schemes with substitute paint colors, several new color schemes have been added to broaden the selection for homeowners. These schemes are identified with a number and no letter.

NOTE: Due to the scanning process and/or varying video screen properties, the colors depicted in this document may vary when compared with the actual color sample chips. If you are considering using one of these color schemes to paint your house, it is suggested that you acquire the actual color chips for the paint that you are considering. These color sample chips can be obtained at any Sherwin-Williams paint store. It is, also, suggested that, before making your final decision on your color selection, you paint a small test area on your house for a better color representation of the final results.

Please refer to the ARC Standards & Recommendations document on the current management company's website to review the ARC requirements prior to painting your house.
